

Community College to Career

Skilled Talent for Employers, Expanded Opportunities for Students

The Community College to Career (CC2C) initiative fosters training and hiring relationships between all 18 Silicon Valley community colleges and innovation-economy employers.

Why Community Colleges?

Local Higher Retention

Diverse 77% students of color, 54% women

Talent Pool
60% of all Bay Area undergraduates

Find diverse local talent without having to develop relationships from scratch

We meet with employers to understand their skills needs

We assess community college programs in those fields

We match employers with the right college programs

Engagement Opportunities

Guest Speakers | Worksite Visits | Curriculum Development | Teaching a Class | Mentoring | Internships | Hiring

Community Colleges in Silicon Valley

18 Colleges | 290,000 Students | 70,000 STEM Students

- | | |
|--------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1. Berkeley City College | 10. College of San Mateo |
| 2. Laney College | 11. Cañada College |
| 3. Merritt College | 12. Foothill College |
| 4. College of Alameda | 13. De Anza College |
| 5. Los Positas College | 14. West Valley College |
| 6. Chabot College | 15. San Jose City College |
| 7. Ohlone College | 16. Evergreen College |
| 8. Mission College | 17. Cabrillo College |
| 9. Skyline College | 18. Gavilan College |

48% of UC
STEM grads are community college transfers

svlg.org

To participate, contact David Palter dpalter@svlg.org